Fisher, Lizette Andrews—Continued

"A comparison of the Corpus Christi procession with that of the close of Dante's Purgatory cannot fail to bring out striking resemblances between them ... They may therefore be considered carefully in the hope of finding in them the clew to a really convincing interpretation of the last six cantos of the Purgatory."

"This study in the psychology of faith is founded on an old Scottish folk-tale told me last year at Onich by Mr. Alexander Cameron, who, a good many years ago, had given it also to the Rev. J. Macdougall of Duror, in whose volume, Waifs and strays of Celtic tradition, now out of print, it is included. Mr. Macdougall's version is printed in full at the end of this volume."—Pref.

Gould, Mrs. Cora (Smith)

If a house could talk; being a history of a flood of released recollections, the resurrection of old letters and photographs pertaining to Litchfield and the Vaill homestead covering a past dating from 1867 to 1876 in which I was vitally interested, an unbridged past dating from 1876 to 1915, an interim of two years, when by some strange decree of fate it was ordained that I should spend the summer months close by the spot on which Julia last tread the earth, and where her soul took flight, a fitting atmosphere in which to gather these stray leaves within the confines of these covers to the memory of Julia and for "auld lang syne," by Cora Smith Gould. COPYRIGHT BOOKS FORWARDED FOR PRINTED TITLE CARDS.

The catalogue titles for books deposited for copyright registration for which printed cards are furnished to other libraries are prepared by the Catalogue Division of the Library of Congress. These books are indicated in the Catalogue of Copyright Entries by the printer's number attached to each title, which can be used in ordering printed title cards.

The books deposited in the Copyright Office divide themselves into two classes:

Class " a," books received with informal applications or informal affidavits, or without the registration fee; or without the data required in order to make the copyright registration.

In the case of these books, before any action can take place in the Copyright Office to indicate the registration number, correspondence must be had with the depositors. The necessary letters of inquiry are promptly dispatched, but it depends entirely upon the promptness with which replies to these letters of inquiry are received when these books can be numbered and forwarded for cataloguing. They are, however, commonly the less important works and are not received from the leading or regular publishers, but from occasional depositors.

Class " b," books received with the necessary fee, application and affidavit, and these documents in such order that the registration can be promptly proceeded with.

In the case of the books of class " b," the manner of handling them in the Copyright Office enables the larger number to be given promptly a registration number, and such books are sent forward from the Copyright Office for cataloguing, for the most part, on the day of receipt. These are usually books deposited by the regular publishers, and include, therefore, not only the greater part of the books deposited but also nearly all the important books.

During the year 1917, out of a total of 10,232 books received and drawn up into the Library of Congress from the Copyright Office, 7,920 belonged to class " b." Of these, 4,781 were sent up on the day they were received in the Copyright Office and 3,139 on the day following their receipt. Two thousand three hundred twelve belonged to class " a " and were sent up on various dates.

NEW ZEALAND

LIVERPOOL, GOVERNOR

ORDER IN COUNCIL—COPYRIGHT

At the Government Buildings at Wellington, this second day of February, 1916.

PRESENT,

The Right Honourable W. F. Massey, P. C.,
Presiding in Council.

Whereas by section thirty-three of the Copyright Act, 1913 (hereinafter referred to as "the said Act"), the Governor may by Order in Council direct that the said Act (except such of the provisions thereof, if any, as may be specified in the Order) shall extend, inter alia—

Subject matter of copyright.

(a) to literary, dramatic, musical, and artistic works, or any class thereof, the authors whereof were at the time of the making of the work subjects or citizens of a foreign country to which the Order relates, in like manner as if the authors were British subjects;

Residence.

(b) in respect of residence in a foreign country to which the Order relates, in like manner as if such residence were residence in New Zealand:

Unpublished works of U. S. citizens.

And whereas it is desirable to provide protection within New Zealand for the unpublished works of citizens of the United States of America:

And whereas the Government of the United States of America has granted protection to works entitled to copyright under the provisions of Part I of the said Act, or has undertaken to grant protection so far as such protection does not already exist:

Now, therefore, His Excellency the Governor of the Dominion of New Zealand, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council of the said Dominion, doth hereby direct that the said Act (including the provisions as to existing works) shall, subject to the provisions of the said Act and of this Order, apply—

New Zealand copyright act, 1913.

(a) to literary, dramatic, musical, and artistic works the authors whereof were at the time of the making of the works citizens of the United States of America, in like manner as if the authors had been British subjects:

Subject matter of copyright.

(b) in respect of residence in the United States of America, in like manner as if such residence had been residence in New Zealand:

Residence.

Provided that—

(i) the term of copyright within New Zealand shall not exceed that conferred by the law of the United States of America:

Term of copyright.

(ii) the enjoyment of the rights conferred by this Order shall be subject to the accomplishment of the conditions and formalities prescribed by the law of the United States of America:

Conditions and formalities.

(iii) in the application to existing works of the provisions of section thirty-two of the Copyright Act, 1913, the commencement of this Order shall be substituted for the 1st July, 1913, in paragraph (b) of subsection (1).

Existing works.

This Order in Council shall come into operation on the first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen.

Effective Dec. 1, 1916.

J. F. Andrews,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

[COPYRIGHT—NEW ZEALAND]

By the President of the United States of America,

A PROCLAMATION.

U. S. copyright act of Mar. 4, 1909.

Sec. 1 (e). Mechanical musical reproduction.

Whereas it is provided by the Act of Congress of March 4, 1909, entitled "An Act to Amend and Consolidate the Acts Respecting Copyright," that the provisions of said Act, "so far as they secure copyright controlling the parts of instruments serving to reproduce mechanically the musical work, shall include only compositions published and copyrighted after this Act goes into effect, and shall not include the works of a foreign author or composer unless the foreign state or nation of which such author or composer is a citizen or subject grants, either by treaty, convention, agreement, or law, to citizens of the United States similar rights":

Sec. 8. Foreign authors who may secure protection.

And whereas it is further provided that the copyright secured by the Act shall extend to the work of an author or proprietor who is a citizen or subject of a foreign state or nation, only upon certain conditions set forth in section 8 of said Act, to wit:

Alien author domiciled in U. S.

> (a) When an alien author or proprietor shall be domiciled within the United States at the time of the first publication of his work; or Countries granting reciprocal rights.

> (b) When the foreign state or nation of which such author or proprietor is a citizen or subject grants, either by treaty, convention, agreement, or law, to citizens of the United States the benefit of copyright on substantially the same basis as to its own citizens, or copyright protection substantially equal to the protection secured to such foreign author under this Act or by treaty; or when such foreign state or nation is a party to an international agreement which provides for reciprocity in the granting of copyright, by the terms of which agreement the United States may, at its pleasure, become a party thereto:

International agreement.

Proclamation of the President.

And whereas it is also provided by said section that "The existence of the reciprocal conditions aforesaid shall be determined by the President of the United States, by proclamation made from time to time as the purposes of this Act may require":

And whereas there has been received from the Government of Great Britain satisfactory official assurance that the Government of New Zealand has issued an Order in Council, effective December 1, 1916, providing that the existing copyright law of that country, including the provisions as to existing works, shall, subject to the provisions of the said law and of the said Order, apply—

New Zealand act, 1913.

Subject matter of copyright.

(a) to literary, dramatic, musical and artistic works the authors whereof were at the time of the making of the works citizens of the United States of America, in like manner as if the authors had been British subjects:

Residence.

(b) in respect of residence in the United States of America, in like manner as if such residence had been residence in New Zealand.

Provided that—

Term of copyright.

(i) the term of copyright within New Zealand shall not exceed that conferred by the law of the United States of America:

Formalities and conditions.

(ii) the enjoyment of the rights conferred by this Order shall be subject to the accomplishment of the conditions and formalities prescribed by the law of the United States of America:

(iii) in the application to existing works of the provisions of Section 32 of the Copyright Act, 1913, the commencement of this Order shall be substituted for the 1st July, 1913, in paragraph (b) of subsection (1). Existing works.

Proclamation. Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do declare and proclaim that one of the alternative conditions specified in sections 1 (e) and 8 (b) of the Act of March 4, 1909, now exists and is fulfilled and since December 1, 1916, has been fulfilled in respect to the citizens of New Zealand, and that such citizens are entitled to all the benefits of section 1 (e) of the said Act, including "copyright controlling the parts of instruments serving to reproduce mechanically the musical work" in the case of all musical compositions by composers of New Zealand which have been published since December 1, 1916, and have been duly registered for copyright in the United States.

Execution. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Date of proclamation. Done at the City of Washington this ninth day of February, in the year of our Lord one [SEAL] thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-first.

WOODROW WILSON.

By The President:

Robert Lansing,

Secretary of State.
